Dear PCADV colleagues & supporters,

I’m pleased to share with you the Coalition’s FY 2017-18 annual report. While FY 2017-18 was a transitional period, exciting new activities and partnerships were developed as illuminated in this report. Since the 2017-18 fiscal year was my first year with the Coalition, I spent time consulting with member delegates, PCADV staff, and collaborators in order to build upon an already strong portfolio of activities.

In FY 2017-18 we also ushered in some new ways of approaching our work, including more transparency in operations and in communications with our members and donors. PCADV faced some operational challenges that needed fresh perspectives for moving our unique mission forward. I’m delighted to say that I had a great deal of assistance and support from the staff, board of directors, member programs, and colleagues in steering the Coalition in a new direction.

Further, we were successful in applying for some major grant projects including the Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) DELTA grant, which is focused on prevention, and the Victims of Crime Act statewide legal services helpline. These projects have allowed us to engage new staff to assist in these statewide efforts aimed at preventing intimate partner violence and helping with resources for legal issues related to victimization.

FY 2017-18 was another strong year for our training and technical assistance programs. PCADV conducted 132 trainings for 6,756 participants and responded to 1,748 technical assistance requests. The Civil Legal Representation (CLR) Initiative served a total of 3,140 clients and obtained $242,138.44 in court-ordered support for survivors and their children. Staff also participated in over 60 collaborative meetings. For the same period, PCADV subcontractors assisted domestic violence survivors’ efforts to live within safer surroundings through the Relocation Program. Additionally, 1,389 adult clients and their 1,718 dependents (for a total of 3,107 individuals) received financial assistance to help them relocate away from abusers or remain safely in their homes after abusers have relocated. A total of $928,451 was spent throughout the year for relocation efforts.

With respect to financial stewardship, I’m delighted to report that we improved our net cash assets by over $132,000 from FY 2016-17 to FY 2017-18. We accomplished this goal by vigilant grants management, by raising more general operational funds, and by tightening our business operations, all in an effort to maximize funding for our programmatic activities.

As we look forward to FY 2019, I’m excited to build upon both the Coalition’s strong history and recent advancements that will position us to take the mission to new heights. I’m grateful for all of our colleagues, donors, volunteers, and staff who have essential roles in our success—we are a stronger Coalition together.

Warm regards,

ABOUT PCADV

Founded in 1976, PCADV is the oldest statewide domestic violence coalition in the nation. Each year, its network of 59 local domestic violence programs provides free and confidential direct services to nearly 90,000 victims and survivors of domestic violence and their children in all 67 counties of the Commonwealth. Together, local programs and the statewide Coalition work in collaboration to deliver a continuum of services, support, and systems to help victims and survivors find safety, obtain justice, and build lives free of abuse.

PCADV administers the state contract for domestic violence services through the distribution of state and federal funds to its network of local domestic violence programs, and through the implementation and monitoring of standards to meet the needs of victims and survivors.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHT

MEDICAL ADVOCACY PROGRAM (MAP)

The intersection of domestic violence and healthcare creates an opportunity to promote safety.

The relationship between domestic violence agencies and the healthcare community is tantamount to increasing the identification of domestic violence victims seeking healthcare services and connecting those survivors to necessary services and support.

PCADV’s Medical Advocacy Program (MAP) promotes collaborative partnerships between community-based domestic violence programs and local healthcare systems, sites and providers to improve responses to domestic violence. MAP provides funding to 35 domestic violence programs to engage in health systems advocacy through medical and domestic violence advocates. The collaboration promoted by MAP is vital, as a medical visit may be the only opportunity for a survivor to connect with a domestic violence program or other necessary resources.

Medical advocates facilitate and support healthcare communities in the implementation of screening and referral policies and protocols to enhance health outcomes and promote violence prevention strategies. In addition to systems advocacy, medical advocates provide information, education, resources, trainings and technical assistance to healthcare communities across Pennsylvania. On average, medical advocates conduct 1,500 trainings for approximately 38,000 medical personnel and allied staff per year. These trainings result in increased referrals to domestic violence programs.

PCADV’s Medical Advocacy Program (MAP) promotes collaborative partnerships between community-based domestic violence programs and local healthcare systems, sites and providers to improve responses to domestic violence.
In March 2018, PCADV was officially awarded the Center for Disease Control and Prevention Domestic Violence Prevention Enhancement and Leadership Through Alliances Impact (DELTA Impact) grant.

The DELTA Impact grant funds state domestic violence coalitions to implement community and societal level primary prevention efforts to decrease risk factors and increase protective factors related to intimate partner violence.

This award is extremely competitive and is distributed to only ten out of 56 possible state and tribal Coalitions. PCADV’s Prevention Team is honored to be a recipient of these funds. With this award, PCADV will have $2.5 million over five years to implement the following projects:

1. Implementation of locally-developed Be the Change curriculum and hot-spot mapping, which identifies perceived safe zones, in schools in Columbia and Montour counties in partnership with The Women’s Center; Inc. of Columbia and Montour Counties.
2. Implementation of Coaching Boys into Men in Chester County in partnership with Domestic Violence Center of Chester County.
4. Updates to the current 5-year prevention plan, and development of a new, 5-year prevention plan.

For this grant, the Prevention Team based programmatic choices on the THRIVE (Tool for Health and Resilience in Vulnerable Communities) Model. Under this model, PCADV’s Prevention Team and partner programs will implement community and societal level prevention work that creates healthy, safe and equitable environments.

During this fiscal year, PCADV continued to advocate for legislation that improves the safety and quality of life for survivors of domestic violence throughout the Commonwealth, with its domestic violence homicide legislation at the forefront.

Homicide prevention has been at the core of PCADV’s public policy initiatives for the last decade. PCADV, its member programs, and an engaged coalition worked relentlessly to ensure this legislation remained a priority for the General Assembly. In spring, 2018, SB 501, introduced by Senator Tom Killion, unanimously passed the Senate. Before breaking for the summer, the House failed to vote on the House version of the bill, HB 2060, introduced by Representative Margueritte Quinn, but PCADV and its coalition partners remained poised to push for passage through the end of the session.

PCADV’s Government Affairs team continues to build relationships with legislators, staff and other like-minded organizations in an effort to increase our presence at the State Capitol. Working closely with legislators and other allies, we hope to remain a resource and a formidable force as we work to improve all services and systems for survivors of domestic violence in Pennsylvania.
In fiscal year 2017-18, the unfortunate loss of two women led to the creation of two new memorial funds; one dedicated to public policy advocacy and reform and the other for prevention efforts for young teens and girls. Both funds are devoted to preserving the legacies of remarkable women and represent a lasting commitment to ending domestic violence.

HONORING VICTIMS, SURVIVORS, AND LEADERS OF THE MOVEMENT TO END DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

CAROLE ALEXY LEGACY FUND

Carole Alexy worked for more than 40 years as a dedicated advocate to end violence against women. Carole began her career early in the domestic violence movement. In 1976, she helped found and served as the Executive Director of A Woman’s Place, the local domestic violence program in Bucks County. She later became president of the PCADV board and joined the staff in 1983, where she worked for 34 years. In recognition of her career committed to improving the lives of women and their families, Carole was awarded the Woman of Courage Award by the Lutheran Settlement House in Philadelphia in 2017.

Carole Alexy passed away on December 10, 2017. In memory of Carole’s steadfast work on behalf of victims and survivors of domestic violence, the PCADV Board of Directors, in collaboration with her family, established The Carole Alexy Legacy Fund. Contributions to the Fund are used to support public policy reform to improve access to safety, justice and autonomy for victims and survivors of domestic violence and their families.

DIANA MEREDITH HEILNER MEMORIAL FUND

Diana Meredith Heilner was a beloved daughter, mother, and friend. An Elizabethtown, PA native, she was a Licensed Practical Nurse and in her free time enjoyed music, including singing and playing the cello. Tragically, at the age of 25, her life was cut short as a result of domestic violence. The Diana Meredith Heilner Memorial Fund was created by her family in her memory to support the advancement of domestic violence prevention efforts for young teens and girls.
